Mr. Alex Mirza :

Administrator

A fully qualified software engineer, Alex entered the teaching profession to support those disaffected from education. Alex further post graduated in Special Educational Needs and went onto do a Masters at the Institute of Education, London, in education and IT. It was here that he began to discover the importance of the IT revolution in education. Alex has been a headteacher, teacher and school owner in London working in some of the most challenging learning environments. Alex is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts and is a strong believer in working towards a level playing field; the RSA (Royal Society for the encouragement of Arts, Manufactures and Commerce) believes in a world where everyone is able to participate in creating a better future.

Understanding the future impact of the IT revolution and being an IT teacher with SEN specialism, Alex started to seek solutions for the disaffected learners in the mainstream classroom. He began to research the possible merits of IT and enhanced learning and in particular OECD/CERI take on the "School of Tomorrow".

In May 2009, Alex established the earliest live, online, safe and secure school that met Ofsted and DFE requirements.
